It has been more than 15 years that Pars has taken a step towards the supply of writing software with a new and different idea.

Pars' efforts throughout these years have always been to become a brand of choice for the general public while providing the world's best writing software. Over the years, Pars, as it has traveled the ups and downs road of this industry, has also expanded its brand and has become an experienced organization that has made a wide range of products available to people in different regions of the country. At the very beginning, Pars started a new conversation with the people by presenting its quality and unique educational aids to the stationery market.

Pars gets its energy from the happy smiles of its audience and reminds itself at every moment that it should be a model organization to promote the culture of pragmatism in the society. An organization that will continue to strive to promote public welfare in every move.
